

Affinity Sienna

AFSIENNA2/N

The Affinity Sienna is the perfect light weight, professional grade, 2-section, portable wooden massage couch which is regularly used for massage, physio, reiki, cranio-sacral therapy and acupuncture, due to its strength and features.

Attention to detail, quality construction and comfort have played an integral part in the design of this excellent table, which comes with a range of accessories including a face cradle with cushion, arm rest sling and quality carry case.

The included face cradle and arm sling can be attached and detached with ease into the port holes which are conveniently positioned each end of the table to allow for even wear on the couch top as well as for a paper towel holder to be attached at the same time as the face cradle.

The Sienna offers great, client reassuring, strength taking over 450lbs/205kg (over 32 stones) of weight on its sturdy wooden frame. To further enhance the client experience, the Sienna features our Therafoam comfort padding system which offers both support and comfort, as well as being upholstered in a luxurious, soft touch, PU vinyl.

Unfolding in a matter of seconds means it is quick and easy to setup. At the end of the treatment, your table can be folded away into itself just as easily and stored safely within the included carry case. As you would expect with a leading brand, even the carry case has therapist friendly features, with a large accessory pocket, metal zips and fixings and extra carry handles to ensure posture friendly carrying. The head cushion, face cradle and arm rest store neatly into the underside of the table as well.

A myriad of therapies can be carried out with the Sienna, so whatever path you take in your career, the Sienna will always travel with you.
