

Affinity Helena

AFHELENA/B

Packed with carefully thought out features and accessories, Affinity Helena can be considered a multi-purpose couch. Its comfort and aesthetics make it ideal for treatments designed for relaxation but, its immense strength, and quality Therafoam padding, mean it can also be confidently used for therapies where both therapist and client are on the couch together or for sports massage and deep tissue work. Add to this its generous levels of height adjustment, lifting back and knee rests (which provide many options on client positioning), Affinity Helena is the perfect couch for most therapy businesses and really comes into its own in a 'shared' couch environment.

As with all Affinity spa couches, the Helena features a generous 3.5" of Therafoam comfort padding. This padding will ensure great levels of comfort on longer treatments but has also been designed to provide great feedback during massage. Covering the foam is a super-soft but tough, double backed PU upholstery. For added comfort and convenience, not to mention flexible positioning, the Helena includes a nape bolster, breathe hole and face cradle frame with cushion and hanging arm rest.

Not only does it look great but it feels great as well. The Affinity Helena really will offer both you and your clients a great treatment experience, making you want to treat all day and keep your clients coming back for more.
